DETAILED ACTION

This Office action is in response to the applicants' amendment received 10/21/04. The amendments to the specification have been entered. Claims 1-30 are remain pending in this application. Applicants' remarks have been fully considered, with the results set forth as follows.

Claim Objections

1. Claims 5, 6, 19, 20 and 29 stand objected to because of the editorial error recited in the prior Office action. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
3. Claims 1-30 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Walker et al (U.S. Patent No. 5,977,942, hereinafter referred to as "Walker '942") in view of Worley, III et al (U.S. Patent No. 6,072,452, hereinafter referred to as "Worley '452").

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 10/21/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants argue that the pertinence of Walker is not understood because the last full sentence pointed out at page 3 of the prior Office action: "However, Walker '942 does not teach expressly that the controller for providing global digital information and the local digital information and the signal generator for providing the modulated signal based on a comparison of the global and local digital information; the selective delay of the transition base on pixel value.” The examiner would like to explain that Walker teaches the use of two circuits: a video controller 70 for supplying local pixel data (which is read on the claim limitation “local digital information”), and a waveform generator 67 for supplying a common reference waveform (which is read on the claim limitation “a common reference”). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use: (i) a single controller, which combines the video controller 70 and a waveform generator 67, instead of the two separate circuits as taught by Walker, for providing the digital information as claimed invention; and (ii) the forced “on” and forced “off” signals as taught by Worley ‘452 for the claim limitation “selective delay”. The motivation for doing so is clearly provided in the prior Office action. Accordingly, by this explanation, claims 1-30 stand rejected.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
